

10th Annual PhD Sustainability Academy

November 9-12, 2017 @ Spencer Leadership Centre, London, Canada.

We welcome your application by August 15, 2017.

To learn more about the Academy and submission process visit: go.ivey.ca/phdacademy

The PhD Sustainability Academy, co-hosted by Ivey Business School and the Alliance for Research on Corporate Sustainability (ARCS) each fall, represents one of the foremost learning and networking events for students researching social and environmental issues.

"The discussions were intense and stimulating! I think everyone came back from the Academy with a myriad of new research ideas as well as a set of new friends."

Magali Delmas, ARCS President and 2014 PhD Sustainability Academy Faculty Mentor

"The promise: to get very generous feedback on your research, in a community that deeply cares about you, people and the planet. The cost: friendships for life."

Maja Tampe, MIT Sloan School of Management and 2015 PhD Sustainability Academy Fellow

2017 Faculty Mentors

Shaz Ansari

Judge Business School, University of Cambridge
Professor of Strategy and Innovation
Professorial Fellow of St Edmund's College

Ruth V. Aquilera

D'Amore-McKim School of Business, Northeastern University
Professor of International Business and Strategy

Michael Barnett

Rutgers Business School, Rutgers University
Professor of Management and Global Business

Oana Branzei (host)

Ivey Business School, Western University
Donald F. Hunter Professor of International Business

Barbara Gray

Smeal College of Business, PennState
Professor Emerita of Organizational Behavior